

The most underrated part of your morning routine.

Hint: it's not your skincare.

The answer

Your gums.

We give our skin minutes and our gums seconds. Yet they're a quiet part of the bigger picture of your health.

What healthy gums look like.

-
- 01 Pink and firm
 - 02 Snug around your teeth
 - 03 No bleeding when you brush
-

If you've noticed

A little pink in the sink?

It's common, and usually easy to turn around with a few small habits.

Caring for your gums is caring for you.

Gum specialists and heart specialists have been studying how oral health and heart health relate. Looking after your gums is one simple, everyday way to look after yourself.

How many do you already do?

☐ Brush twice a day for two minutes

☐ Clean between your teeth daily

☐ Spit, don't rinse

☐ A dental check-up in the last year

Comment your score out of 4.

Small upgrades, big difference.

01 Try small interdental brushes.

02 Ask your dentist to check your gums, not just your teeth.

03 Book a hygienist visit if it's been a while.

Coming soon

Dentistry is coming to The Wellness.

Save this for your routine, and share it with someone who'd find it useful.